Webkinz Halloween Party

Lulu was putting up specific decorations all over the house with Alley and Vixen helping. Lulu was putting up ghost and witches up in the ceiling. Vixen was carving jack-o-lanterns. And Alley was hanging up Halloween lights. "Hey, ladies. What are you doing?" asked Prancer as he came in Lulu's room.

>"We're getting ready for the Halloween party, of course." said Lulu.
"Halloween party? You didn't tell anybody about that." said Prancer.

>"Well, I wanted it to be a surprise. Now, be a lad and keep the ladder steady while I put the lights up." said Alley.
"Okay. What kind of lights are you putting up?" said Prancer.

>"They're kind of like Christmas lights, except the colors are orange and black, the colors of Halloween." said Vixen.
"Oh, cool." Suddenly, the rest of the Webkinz came in.

>"Are all the decorations put up yet?" asked Spark.
"That's looking pretty cool, guys." said Snowflake.

>"Thanks, guys. And to answer your question, Spark, the decorations are almost all up. We just need to put up the lights." said Vixen.
"Cool. Are we going to ask the other Webkinz to come over or are they going to go trick-or-treating?" asked Chandler.

>"They're not going to come. They have trick-or-treating to attend to. Freedom told me over the phone. Maybe next year, they told me." said Lulu.
"Okay, the lights are hung. Now, somebody get me down." said Alley.

>"Don't worry. I'll catch you." said Prancer. And he did catch her.
"Well, I made dinner. Let's go eat." said Lulu. Everyone went in the kitchen to eat. After supper, everyone went over to Lulu's room. Lulu went over to her dresser.

>"Lulu? What are you doing?" asked Jessica.
"What's a Halloween party without costumes. I'm going to be Cleopatra." said Lulu.

>"But, Lulu, you did that last year!" said Tabby.
"I know I did. But I just think that dressing up as Cleopatra is awesome." said Lulu. Suddenly, the doorbell rang.
>"Oh! That must be trick-or-treaters. I'll be right back. You 2 tell the others to put their mummy costumes on." said Lulu. She went over to the door and saw the rest of the Webkinz dressed in different costumes.
"Wow, guys. Neat costumes." said Lulu.
>"Thanks. You too. Don't you have candy for us?" asked Comet.
"I do. Hold on one second." Moments later, Lulu came back with a bucket full of candy."
>"Whoa. Thanks." said Star.
"You're welcome. Hope you're having a happy Halloween." said Lulu.

The next day, the Halloween decorations were down. And everyone except for Lulu was sick because of eating too much candy. "Oh boy. Now I need to save up money for visits to the dentist."
